

Success story of Pratibha Verma, who battled serious health ailments but still secured 3rd rank in UPSC

Many a times we blame the circumstances and people and institutions but for Pratibha her goal of becoming IAS is important and she cracked it with wit and grit

IAS Pratibha Verma's journey was not easy but she made it through the tough times and emerged as an inspiration for many. Read her story to motivate yourself

IAS Pratibha Verma's story is a perfect example of overcoming obstacles in life. Belonging to the small town of Sultanpur in the state of Uttar Pradesh, she managed to secure all India 3rd Rank in 2019. Though it looks easy, it was a long and troublesome journey for Pratibha who often fell ill during her preparation. Pratibha first became an engineer, then an IRS officer and later an IAS. And her journey is inspiring for many now

The biggest hurdle for was that she was in a Hindi medium but that did not discourage her at all. After completing class 10 from the UP board and class 12 from the CBSE board, she moved to Delhi to complete her B.Tech from IIT Delhi.

Pratibha completed her B.Tech in 2014 and immediately got a job in a telecom company with a good salary. After working there for two years, she decided to leave the job and start preparing for UPSC exam.

After leaving the job in 2016, she decided to prepare for the UPSC exam by staying away from home and relied more on standard and books mock exams conducted by various institutes

Pratibha failed in her first attempt and in her second attempt she secured the 489th rank and was selected for IRS but her ultimate dream was to become an IAS. And he Continued her journey with more commitment and passion

Even though she had become an IRS officer, her aim was IAS. She went on preparing for it and in her third attempt in 2019, she managed to become an IAS officer by securing the third rank in the UPSC exam.

Though Pratibha had several health issues, she was not bothered by them. In 2018 she got dengue and in 2019 she got typhoid. It was difficult to concentrate on her studies and her interview due to all this. After her interview was postponed by two months due to coronavirus she did power yoga and meditation and took special care of her food and got better.

Pratibha's mother, Usha is a teacher in Verma Primary School, while her father Sudansh Verma teaches in Higher Secondary School. Pratibha's elder brother does a private job and his younger brother has done B.Tech. At the same time, his sister is a doctor.
